

Workshop on
The Interaction between Monetary Policy and Financial Stability

Oslo, 9-10 June 2011

Call for Papers

Norges Bank organizes a research workshop to be held in Oslo on June 9-10 2011. We invite submissions of research papers on the interaction between monetary policy and financial stability. We are especially interested in the following topics:

- Credit, asset prices and the transmission mechanism of monetary policy
- Interactions between monetary and macroprudential policy
- DSGE models with an explicit role for financial intermediation
- Potential tradeoffs between price stability and financial stability
- Endogenous asset price bubbles and monetary policy
- Financial shocks as a source of business cycle fluctuations
- Monetary policy and financial stability interactions in small open economies
- How to measure financial (in)stability

Professors Ricardo Caballero (MIT) and Mark Gertler (New York University) have confirmed their participation and will be Keynote Speakers.

Papers to be considered for the workshop should be e-mailed in pdf format to: Workshop2011@norges-bank.no The submission deadline is February 15. Authors of submitted papers will be notified by April 1.

Funding for accommodation and (economy class) transportation is available for presenters and discussants. There will be a workshop dinner on June 9.

The organizing committee is composed by Francesco Furlanetto (Norges Bank), Paolo Gelain (Norges Bank), Steinar Holden (University of Oslo) and Thea Kloster (Norges Bank). Questions should be directed to: Workshop2011@norges-bank.no
